

47 Of Everything And Everything In Its Place

Organize

What a mess! Cars in the shop, trucks in storage, equipment scattered everywhere. PR*VIDE by Provista is a proven asset tracking and management system that lets you know at a glance where to find the stuff you've already purchased, so you don't have to buy duplicates in a crisis.

Share

Without purchasing additional licenses, people out in the field can track equipment they need to get their jobs done. No specialized training or dedicated devices needed, just a web browser.

Manage

PR*VIDE is so easy to set up and use, you can move from mess to managed in only a couple weeks. PR*VIDE is powered out of the box by a world-class database engine designed for stability and speed of deployment. Your back office staff can quickly set up users and views themselves with our straightforward, plain-English interface.

Extend

Need to add more users? PR*VIDE can scale up to thousands of users without having to buy additional licenses. Connect to your existing inventory management system with our low-cost interface modules.

Control

Budgets are only getting tighter. Stay in control of your department's assets without breaking the bank to do it.

Visit provista.com/public_safety today for a white paper and a free product demo. Let's get started!

IAEM Conference in November 11-18, Las Vegas (booth 432 hosted by IBM)